This document is an addendum to our standard student handbook. The standard handbook is available on the Disability Services website (slds.osu.edu/registered-students/student-handbook/). The standard handbook includes staff contact information, general accommodation policies and procedures, general office policies, voter registration information, more campus and community resources and the Disability Services Grievance Procedure.

This handbook is available in alternate formats upon request.

PROFESSIONAL SCHOOL ACCOMMODATION CHART

- Professional school students may work with SLDS and/or their college’s liaison to coordinate accommodation requests.

- The first chart below summarizes the point-of-contact for each accommodation.

- If you don’t see your college listed, then follow the typical accommodation process.

Comprehensive/Qualifying/Candidacy Exam Accommodations

- First, determine what organization designs/administers the exam. This will determine which steps you need to take to receive exam accommodations.
  - Ohio State University: follow the typical exam process by requesting accommodations through your Access Specialist (and/or College Liaison, if applicable)
  - Third Party Organization: you must submit all exam accommodation requests via the third party organization. If you need medical and/or accommodation documentation to provide to this third party organization, please contact your assigned Access Specialist

- Please contact your Access Specialist (and/or College Liaison, if applicable) in advance to make arrangements for all comprehensive/qualifying exam accommodations.

Thesis/Dissertation/oral Defense Accommodations

- Please contact your Access Specialist (and/or College Liaison, if applicable) to request accommodations (e.g. non-normative time) for your thesis, dissertation or oral defense.

- Disability Services will work with your academic department to make an individualized consideration of your request. Therefore, it is important to submit your request as soon as possible. This will help to ensure we have enough time to determine and coordinate appropriate accommodations.

Field Placement/Internship/Clinical Accommodations

- Please contact your Access Specialist (and/or College Liaison, if applicable) to request additional accommodations for field placements, internships or clinicals.

- Since this accommodation involves working with a third party organization and often includes consideration of technical requirements, it can take time to identify appropriate accommodations. Therefore, it is important to submit any accommodation requests a minimum of 4 weeks prior to the start of the placement, internship or clinical.

Council of Graduate Students
CGS is the official branch of student government that represents every graduate student at the main and satellite campuses. Its primary purpose is to work towards a continual improvement of the graduate student experience at The Ohio State University. CGS Officers, Committee Chairs and Delegates serve as staunch advocates in the process of crafting university policy-making decisions. Our competitive funding programs and “graduate-centered” programing support the personal and professional development of all graduate students.

- Bell Fellows Program: This program is for Ohio State doctoral students who show promise of becoming productive scholars on topics related to African American males. It includes ongoing professional development and mentorship that prepares students for the academic rigors of the academy. Bell Fellows contribute to current and new research initiatives and writing projects designed by the Bell Resource Center.

- Corporate and ODI Scholar Symposium: This symposium presents ODI Scholars with a unique opportunity to network and mingle with role models who have “sat where they sit” and are now in successful careers. The symposium also offers ODI’s corporate partners the opportunity to meet ODI scholars.
• Dissertation Boot Camp: This writing retreat provides PhD candidates from underrepresented populations with the space to work on their dissertations with other Ohio State students and faculty. It is specifically designed for those students who seek to kick start their dissertations or to continue writing chapters on their dissertation.

• Graduate/Professional Student Recruitment Initiative (GPS): The Ohio State University’s premier diversity recruitment program for students considering post-baccalaureate studies at Ohio State. It serves as a conduit for specialized information and helps to contribute to the ethnic, cultural and academic diversity of Ohio State’s Graduate School and Professional Colleges.

• Preparing for the Professoriate Retreat: The Preparing for the Professoriate Retreat (formerly the Future Faculty Retreat), is designed to prepare current Ohio State doctoral students for graduate school admission and the demands that accompany the professoriate experience.

• Spring Convocation and Corporate Reception for Graduate and Professional Students: This is an opportunity for graduate and professional students to meet and network with those in different fields of study as well as with alumni, faculty, staff and administrators at Ohio State and key area corporate representatives.

• Additional Opportunities for Professional Growth: Other annual events offer graduate and professional students additional opportunities to become involved outside of the classroom such as the President and Provost's Diversity Lecture and Cultural Arts Series, the National Conference on Diversity, Race, and Learning, and ODI's Dialogue and Discussion Series.
